

Thesis Editing

At Mind Your Way, we are fully equipped to provide specialised editing of Honours, Masters, or PhD theses. Plan ahead now – you and your students deserve a smooth home run!

You have come a long way, and now there is light at the end of the tunnel. Submission day is close! But once ideas are settled and chapters are written, there is still a bit of housekeeping to do. We can help with:

- » Spelling, grammar, and expression
- » Consistent in-text citations and reference lists
- » Table of contents and accurate page links
- » Helping non-native English students express themselves clearly
- » Re-submission tidying

Best-practice thesis editing standards

With a document as important as a thesis, you will want to make sure you are in good editorial hands. At Mind Your Way, all theses are edited in line with the Guidelines for Editing Academic Theses set forth by the Institute of Professional Editors (IPEd) – Australia’s premier organisation for editing support and accreditation.
